We found G-d's recipe book.

Yes, it's getting hotter globally. Hottest first 6 months on record and July seems even hotter, but this isn't the weather channel. We explained last year that the 100-year average surface temperature on earth was headed towards 57.78 degrees and this year that steady rise has shifted into high gear.

When in 5-6 years the average temperature hits 57.78 degrees Fahrenheit, it'll be numerically exactly 1.00% of the Sun's surface temperature as measured in Kelvins, 5778 K.

It'll also be the year 5778 (2018 CE) in the Hebrew calendar, the year prophesied for the coming of the Moshiach (Messiah). None of this is new to readers of this blog, but I did want to add a little more insight toward the bigger picture unfolding around us.

As the tzaddikim were well aware and as is written in the Zohar, Moses was given 173 keys, which really referred to the 42-Letter Name of G-d whose gematria value summed up to 173. The 42-Letter Name is more powerful than any of us will probably know and I've personally have witnessed glimpses of that power and how it bends the so-called natural forces (laws) of our universe, which we call miracles, but we've written about that and will do so again elsewhere. Nevertheless, 173 relates back to the sun, whose surface temperature is 5778 K in that the total energy that the Earth receives from the Sun is 173 Petawatts (a petawatt is a quadrillion [or million billion] watts). Imagine that!

That's a lot of symmetry, considering that according to the sages, it's the understanding of the 42-letter Name that will help bring in the Moshiach. But there's more and there always will be more as we can no more comprehend the scope of G-d's designs than we can His greatness. If we take that solar power reaching Earth and divide it by the speed of light (299,792,458 m/s) we get 577065885, which is not exactly indicative of 5778 or even 5777.78. Nevertheless, if in the equation we take the square root of 3 (1.7320508...) instead of the ridiculously rounded off and large 173,000,000,000,000 watts, we get:

the total energy of the sun on earth =  $(3 \times 10^{15}) / (\text{speed of light}) = 5777.5 \times 10^3$

That the square root of 3 would relate to the 42-Letter Name or this solar equation that brings together the Earth and Sun in some sort of harmonic relationship is not so surprising. After all, the square root of 5 is at the root of the Torah's design as well as that of everything natural in the universe though the constant Phi \(1.618033...\), and that the number 5778 is precisely Phi<sup>18</sup>

No, somehow it all makes sense. Since the dawn of Biblical creation, the earth will have circled the Sun 5778 times (or Phi<sup>18</sup> times), equivalent to the surface temperature of that Sun (5778K), lets say 1 degree for each encircling, and during that period, at the speed of light, the Sun sheds 173 Petawatts of energy on the Earth, warming it's surface (with our help most recently) to 57.78 degrees F, or .01 degree for each encircling. And when we divide that 173 Petawatts of energy by the speed of light which is the speed that energy would have traveled to get to the Earth we see that they are related by a factor of 5777.5

Light, Energy, Heat, Sun, Earth, Time; they are all related, intertwined. And they are all winding down, or winding up to a moment just 5-6 years from now when it will all be clear to us.

While the puzzle is being unfolded around us, the answers as taught by the tzaddikim are not to be found in this world, but in the spiritual one as what is played out here is nothing more than a reflection of a shadow there. The two artifacts we were given to peer into that world are the Torah and the 42-Letter Name of G-d, which is why it's at the center of the life-giving transference of the Sun's power to our planet. And this is why it's apropos that we reveal it at the time of year we read about the 42 journeys the Israelites made in crossing from Egypt to the Promised Land.

The equations above are more than just numbers; they also represent a formula, or a recipe if you will: Preheat oven to 5778K. Mix all the ingredients for 6 days, let it set, then bake in the speed-of-light convection oven at 173 petawatts for 5778 years until it reaches at temperature of 57.78 degrees. Remove Earth from oven and voila!

The question is what do we get?
