
The primordial aleph

Author : Meiliken

Date : 03-10-2008

As per our article on the 70 verses (V'dber Moshe) of the Torah and the location of Da'at (knowledge), the two primordial letters that existed before the Torah and invisibly precede the Bet of Bereshit are the Aleph and the Mem. The Mem combines with the Bet to form the Mem-Bet, or 42-letter Name of G-d that links heaven and earth (and forms zeir anpin, the bridge between binah (understanding, heaven) and malchut (kingdom, our world))

As per your article on the current pasha, "[the aleph] is responsible for the whole creation. (10 sayings "?????")." When we break down the word for sayings we get ?? and ????. And since (????) has the value of the "H'Torah" (the Torah) and is essentially spelled the same as the Torah, the word for "sayings," as in the 10 sayings (utterances, or more commonly translated as the commandments) is actually a pictograph for the two primordial letters linked to the Torah.

Reply

Forward